

PARAGON INTERFACE WINS GERMAN DESIGN AWARD

PARAGON Interface, part of the Paragon architecture group, has won a 2020 German Design Award in the category Excellence in Architecture – Interior Architecture for its work on 1 Discovery Place for client Discovery and developers Growthpoint Properties and Zenprop, a statement said yesterday. The German Design Awards, one of the most prestigious awards of its kind, this year attracted more than 5 300 entries from 69 countries. It has three main award categories: Excellent Product Design, Excellent Communication Design and Excellent Architecture. Paragon Interface director Claire D'Adorante said an aspect of the design that particularly impressed the judges was the central atrium, with its central, collaborated workspaces.

| Edward West